

“Our Brave, New World:
The Relationship Between Faith & Science”
September 5, 2021

- I. There is so much tension today between these two
- A. People of science who see faith as the enemy

  - B. People of faith who see science as the enemy

Let’s Think Biblically

- II. Biblically speaking, we can say that the pursuit of science is part of God’s _____ on our lives
- A. What is science, after all?

  - B. From Day 1 of our creation, God ordained for us to pursue science and develop technology. Where do we see this in Genesis?

  - C. Why did God do it this way? Is he being mean to us?

Let’s Think Theologically

- III. We can also say that true science must not be an enemy to faith, but its _____.
- A. How is it that faith and science can be allies of each other?

  - B. “I’m trusting God to protect me from Covid. Faith over fear!” Let’s think theologically about some statements Christians are making in the present crisis

Let’s Think Transformationally

- IV. Why does faith need science?
- A. Because science can be a _____ to bring God’s love to a hurting world.

  - B. Because science can help faith keep from slipping into _____.
- V. Why does science need faith?
- A. Faith provides moral _____ to govern the use and practice of science.

  - B. Because science alone can never _____ all the hurts and satisfy all the longings of the human heart.
